EGBERT

By Steven Barclay Big K, June 1984

Guide Egbert, the Silicon Snake, around the room and munch everything you can. Warning: Egbert moves VERY fast. Second warning: touch the walls of the room and you FRY. Slither on!

Guide your silicon snake (Egbert) towards the food lying on the floor. Egbert will give you 100 points for every piece of food you can lay his face in!

Steer clear of the walls for they are not exactly cold, indeed they have been known to be rather warm at times, unless the thought of being scorched out of existence appeals to you.

There is a time limit ticking away in the top right hand screen during the game, survive until this reaches 0 and, provided Egbert has been well fed (30+pieces of food) marvel at what you see before you!

Food you can eat

Controls

Up = P Down = L Left = Z Right = X Start = S Quit = Q

aiT

Each time you get some food for Egbert you start at your last position and begin to slither upwards. So be careful to move down quickly when this happens!